DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-5 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Spinazzola (Quality Deer Management Assoc.) in view of Selected Practices and Plantings for Wildlife ("Selected Practices").

As to claims 1-3, Spinazzola discloses a method of luring wildlife comprising planting two or more herbicide resistant seeds, corn and soybeans ("GLYFLO corn" and "glyphosate-ready soybeans" of page 1) in a food plot near desirable habitat ("corn along the fencerows and woods" of page 1), waiting for the seed to germinate, and spraying the food plot with a broad spectrum herbicide, glyphosate (from "four weeks later" of page 1). Not disclosed are the seeds being premixed. Selected Practices, however, disclose planting premixed corn and soybeans for wildlife (from "or 4lbs corn & 25 lbs in soybeans in 36'' rows" of page 5 for the corn and soybean mixture). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify the method of Spinazzola by premixing the crops as disclosed by Selected Practices so as to provide a longer period of food availability (Selected Practices at page 3 last line).

Art Unit: 3643

As to claim 4, Spinazzola as modified by Selected Practices further disclose the seed at a particular ratio to one another (in that the plot is a given size with a given amount of each seed used).

As to claim 5, Spinazzola as modified by Selected Practices further disclose the ratio is varied to attract a certain type of wildlife (in that the corn and soybeans are to attract a certain species - deer).

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 18 May 2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicants' argument is that Spinazzola does not disclose the crops being premixed (Remarks page 4, 2nd para.).

Examiner has amended the rejection to include a prior art reference that discloses premixing corn and soybeans. The 103 rejection is considered proper because it includes all of the claim's limitations, has a reasonable expectation of success because both references deal with wildlife mangement, and has proper motivation because both references deal with food plots for wildlife.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

Art Unit: 3643

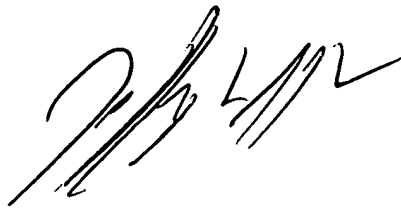

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
